The Tri-Weekly Kentucky New Era.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, SATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1888.

NUMBER 114.

CONDENSED NEWS.

The bill creating a department of labor has been signed by the president.

An attempt was made to form a flour trust at the Millers' National Convention, but it failed.

Kansas City sends a delegation of 150 Blaine men to Chicago to boom that gentleman's chances.

The body of T. H. Garrett, who was drowned off Baltimore a short time since by the sinking of his yacht, has been recovered. It was found a mile distant from the spot where the accident occurred.

The marriage of Miss Mollie Garfield to J. Stanley Brown and that of Miss Belle Mason, of Cleveland, to Mr. Harry Garfield, eldest son of the dead president, took place Thursday evening at the home of the family, in Mentor, O. The decorations throughout the house were elaborate. A special train conveyed the guests from Cleveland, and a city caterer provided the menu. The utmost secrecy was observed regarding the details of the wedding, and newspaper reporters were absolutely refused any information.

William Patterson, the accomplice of Albert Turner, in the murder of Jennie Bowman, must die on the scaffold at last. Gov. Buckner has given his case a long and careful investigation and, after hearing all the evidence and arguments of the attorneys for and against and prolonging the reading of the papers away into the night, and Thursday morning stated that he was satisfied of the prisoner's guilt and declined to interfere with the court's judgment. The execution will take place June 21.

Married men have no business corresponding with anonymous female letter writers, but then married men do a great many things they have no earthly business doing. They get caught up with sooner or later, and there's old Harry to pay. A certain married man of Paducah has been corresponding with a "fair unknown" for several weeks. The letters have been very tender in their character, and have increased in fervor as each succeeding letter was sent and received. Thursday night was the time fixed for the first meeting, and the first ward school the place. The married man was on hand promptly, and when hope deferred had made the heart sick, he was greeted with a shower of last year's eggs. It was the old, superannuated, chestnut joke, that has done service for so many years, and as usual it worked to perfection.

The new law passed in New York a few days ago for the execution of murderers by electricity, instead of hanging, applies only to murderers whose crimes are committed before Jan. 1, 1890. An electric battery or dynamo machine, a chair constructed for the purpose, some copper wire and steel collar, and some clothes will complete the outfit that is to replace the cumbersome gallows and ugly noose, and the whole will cost less than $100. The condemned man will be seated in the chair and the wires affixed to his wrist and neck. The momentary pressure of a button completes the current and a powerful current will pass through the man's body, causing a painless death in the one-hundredth part of a second. The new law provides that all executions shall take place in state prison within ten days after the sentence has been pronounced. The exact day of the execution will not be fixed, and only one prison official will be present.

Mrs. John A. Logan has entered into the canvass for Gov. Alger with old-time energy, epiced with a tinge of bitterness towards other candidates. This new element is likely to create a good deal of bitterness, as it has already concentrated in more than one delegation. Mrs. Logan, on arriving at the Grand Pacific, was waited upon by the members of the Chicago Veterans union and given one of the heartiest receptions ever accorded to a woman in Chicago. For every old soldier she had a warm handshake and a word to him personally. Her hair has grown perfectly white since her bereavement, but her face was bright and she was animated as ever. After the reception in conversation with the newspaper men who crowded about, she paid a high tribute to Gen. Alger. Mrs. Logan said: "He has always been honorable in his every dealing. People say that he is unknown. The reason for this is that he has not antagonized anybody. He has not abused other Republicans. This is more than can be said for some of the other candidates in the field."

"What do you think of Blaine?" "I am fair enough to believe that Mr. Blaine is honest. I think that he is out of the race."

I told you so.

Mr. E. A. Ireland, of Breckenridge, Mo., Nashville, Tenn., says: "I was afflicted with Piles for twenty years, and I tried every remedy offered me; finally used the Ethiopian Pile Ointment. It gave me instant relief, and has effected a permanent cure." Sold by all druggists.

To Tri-Weekly Subscribers.—Our offer to delinquents (allowing them to pay at the rate of $2.00 a year, when they pay to date and for a year in advance) has been responded to by a large number of subscribers, but there are very satisfactory manner, but there are a few who have not yet been heard from. For the benefit of those few we will extend the time in which they may come up and settle under the above proposition to July 1st. We now hope all will come in and secure a ticket in our drawing for every dollar they pay. Note well the terms; old scores at $2.00 a year, a year in advance $2.00, a ticket with every dollar until July 1st to come in.

Malaria steals fire from the mind and vigor from the limbs unless you give Acumman's Purgative Pills. They give you new vim. Cures and drives malaria from the system when all other remedies fail. For sale by H. B. Garner.

Fairview Notes.

FAIRVIEW, KY., June 14.—Dr. Will S. Petrie has returned from Adairville. Mr. J. Slaughter, Downer, of Guthrie, was in the neighborhood Monday.

Miss Willie Russell has returned to her home in Lynchburg, Va. Miss Russell has spent the winter with Misses Sallie Jessup and Nonnie Downer. She was thoroughly popular with all our people and her departure was an occasion of regret.

We regret to learn that our former citizen, Mr. Preston E. Tandy, has been visited by reverse of fortune. His house in Glasgow was burned last Saturday. Loss not known. It was partially insured.

On the evening of Monday, June 11, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Downer gave an elegant entertainment in honor of their guest, Miss Willie J. Russell, and their charming daughter, Miss Nonnie. It was known as a "loopy party." The cards being issued by the ladies. The gentlemen assembled at the residence of Mr. R. W. Downer and at 9 o'clock the ladies came for them, accompanied by a proper chaperone. At 10:30 a splendid supper was served. All through the evening the genial hostess exerted herself to increase the enjoyment of her guests. She was always in the right place at the right time, bringing order out of chaos, making the proper changes and by a word in season adding much to the enjoyment of the evening. The features of the evening was the music rendered by Miss Russell. Miss Russell studied music in the east and her skill in execution is wonderful. When it was announced that she would play every tongue was hushed. Her fingers swept over the key board with lightninglike rapidity and seemed to dance like "cliffs in the moonlight." She put her very soul into the harmony of her subject and her hearers were fairly exclaiming, "Oh, lyre divine, what daring spirit wakes these notes?" When at last she closed a universal sigh was given by her auditors. The entertainment closed at 12 o'clock. Following is the list of ladies and their escorts:

Miss Lily Fulcher and Gus T. Tandy, Miss Annie Hall and Will Vaughan, Miss Sallie Jessup and R. L. Mosely, Miss Pearl Vaughan and Chas. Fulcher, Miss May Stuart and Oscar Layne, Miss Ida Quisenberry and George Dowdy, Miss Katie Allen and Joe Woolsey, Miss Jessie Shaw and John Danforth, Miss Lula Mosely and Dr. George Terry, Miss Maud Downer and Dr. Browder, Miss Daisy Shaw and J. S. Downer, Miss Willie Russell and S. R. Dicken, Miss Clara Allen and Baker Jessup, Miss Nonnie Downer and Robert Chilton, Miss Katie Layne and N. B. Dicken.

T. Hawk.

The Dudes Know It.

Or if they don't they should know that Kangum Root Lintment cured Big Head in nudes for W. E. Hunt, of Adairville, Ky. J. H. Mallory, of Fort Station, Tenn., cured his legs of blind staggers with it. In fact this kind of Lintment is invaluable for man and beast, and no family should be without it. Sold by all druggists.

Fergusonville Gossip.

FERGUSONVILLE, June 13.—Mr. John Harned and wife, of Fairview, are visiting the family of Mr. J. W. Wicks. Judge John W. McWhorter was shaking hands on Pond river yesterday.

Mrs. Susan Jones, of Fruit Hill, died on Wednesday last.

Charles Oliver, of your city, visited friends in the country last Sunday.

Messrs. J. W. Wicks and Judge West are attending the tobacco sale at Hopkinsville at present.

Mr. Pat Berry, from near Fairview, visited his parents last Sunday.

The Sunday-school at Long's school-house is progressing splendidly.

Has "Hiram" entirely quit writing for the paper? We know the readers of the New Era would be glad to hear from him. Some of his "midnight musings" for instance.

There are indications that there will be a wedding in this vicinity soon.

The health of this community is splendid at present.

Is Consumption Incurable.

Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable Consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and am now in my third bottle, and able to overcome the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made."

Jesse Middlewart, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of Lung Troubles. Was given up by doctors. Am now in best of health." Try it. Sample bottle free at Harry B. Garner's, City Pharmacy.

Garner's, City Pharmacy.

Evolution of Thought.

Old-time idea of the place of future punishment: A dark and awful abode of seething molten liquid with a thousand stony and fiery tongues reaching out in gloom for their shuddering and wretched victims.

A little later: A place lined with the bones of the wicked. Liquid cooling oil, but still bubbling. No light.

Next generation: A place of remorse and retribution. Pleasant surroundings. Navigation open but no fire. Tapers burning.

Still later: An ante-room in which to throw off one's earthly garments. Plate glass windows and skylight. Good music and refreshments. All in the best of taste.

Very modern: A summer resort. Cold air drafts. Everything on ice. Upholstered furniture. Good band music for the children. No band music. Bright future.
